

Table of Contents

Foreword and Acknowledgements 9

I THE EVOLUTION OF EU DEVELOPMENT POLICY –
ENLARGEMENT AND A CHANGING WORLD 11
Andrew Mold and Sheila Page

1. Introduction 11
2. Are there Lessons to be Learned for Developing Countries from Recent European History? 13
3. Effects of Enlargement 17
4. The EU's Other Foreign Policy Interests 19
5. Contents of the Book 20

2 THE ENLARGED EUROPEAN UNION AND THE DEVELOPING WORLD: WHAT FUTURE? 29
Mirjam van Reisen

1. Introduction 29
2. Europe and Its Colonial Past 30
3. Europe's Early Unification: From Colonialism to Multilateralism 34
4. Expanding the Focus of the EC towards the Mediterranean 37
5. The First Enlargement and the Increased Scope for Development Aid 39
6. The European Development Fund and the Budget 41
7. Towards a New Relationship with the Third World 43
8. Second Enlargement: Further Expansion of Community Aid 44

9.	Beyond 1989: Emphasis on the Near Abroad	46
10.	The Legal Basis for EU's Development Aid Policy	47
11.	Towards Eastward Enlargement: Greater Emphasis on the 'Near Abroad'	51
12.	Reform of Institutional Arrangements Affecting the EU's Development Policy	52
13.	The Contradictory Trends in the EU's Policies	56
14.	Conclusions: Enlargement and Development: Is there a Future?	59
3	EUROPEAN DEVELOPMENT POLICYMAKING: GLOBALISATION AND THE POST-LOMÉ WORLD	67
	Marjorie Lister
1.	Introduction: Globalisation and Development	67
2.	The End of Development?	68
3.	Third World or Globalisation?	70
4.	The Post Post -colonial Phase?	71
5.	Enlargement and Development	73
6.	The European Union as a Powerful Attractor	74
7.	Effects on the Structure of the EU – Constituent Policies	75
8.	Disappointment	76
9.	Partnership: An Elusive Goal?	76
10.	Conclusion	79
4	CLASH OF CIVILISATIONS OR INTERCULTURAL DIALOGUE? CHALLENGES FOR EU MEDITERRANEAN POLICIES	85
	Roderick Pace
1.	Introduction	85
2.	The EU's Perspectives of the Mediterranean Region	87
3.	The EU's Policy Response	88
4.	The Underlying Principles	90
5.	Is there a Clash of Civilisations in the Mediterranean Region?	94
6.	Conclusions	101

5	TO RECIPROCATE OR NOT TO RECIPROCATE? IS THAT THE QUESTION? A CGE SIMULATION OF THE EURO-MEDITERRANEAN AGREEMENTS	109
	Andrew Mold
	1. Introduction	109
	2. The Historical Experience of Liberalisation in the Region	113
	3. Potential Comparative Advantages of the SEM Region	115
	4. Trade Creation and Diversion within the SEM Region	120
	5. A CGE Simulation Scenario	123
	6. Conclusions and Recommendations	132
6	CHALLENGES OF FORGING A PARTNERSHIP BETWEEN THE EUROPEAN UNION AND LATIN AMERICA	149
	Christian Freres
	1. Introduction: The EU's Enlargements and Ties with Latin America	149
	2. Building the 'Partnership': Progress to Date	150
	3. Does the EU Offer Something Different for Latin America?	158
	4. Is Another Bi-regional Partnership Possible?	161
	5. Final Reflections: Looking Towards the Lima Summit	163
7	THE EU AND DEMOCRACY PROMOTION IN AFRICA: HIGH ON RHETORIC, LOW ON DELIVERY?	169
	Gordon Crawford
	1. Introduction	169
	2. EU Democracy Promotion Policy: High on Rhetoric	170
	3. Democracy Promotion in EU-Africa Policy	173
	4. EU Democracy Assistance in Africa: Low on Delivery?	176
	5. Explaining the Rhetoric-Reality Gap: Two Propositions	183
	6. Propositions Explored: Learning from Ghana	185
	7. Conclusion	189

8	A CRITICAL ASSESSMENT OF PROPOSED EU-ACP ECONOMIC PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENTS	199
	Oliver Morrissey, Chris Milner and Andrew McKay
	1. Introduction	199
	2. The Nature of EPAs	202
	3. Modelling Framework	204
	4. Illustrating the Welfare Effects: An EU-EAC EPA	208
	5. Conclusions	215
9	CREATING A DEVELOPMENT-FRIENDLY EU TRADE POLICY	221
	Christopher Stevens
	1. Europe's Tangled Web	221
	2. The Patchwork	222
	3. The WTO Link	223
	4. The GSP	224
	5. The India Case	225
	6. The New GSP	225
	7. Will GSP+ Survive in the WTO?	227
	8. The GSP as an Umbrella	229
	9. Improving the GSP for the ACP	231
	10. Conclusions: The Economic Effects	233
10	BETWEEN A ROCK AND A HARD PLACE – WHITHER EU DEVELOPMENT POLICY?	237
	Andrew Mold
	1. Introduction: Raising Expectations Too High?	237
	2. The Thorny Issue of Democracy Promotion	241
	3. The Controversial Issue of Aid Conditionality	247
	4. What is Motivating the Economic Partnership Agreements?	249
	5. A Deeper Dilemma with Development Policy?	253
	6. The Malaise of Development Economics	257
	7. Towards a Conclusion: How Can the EU Genuinely Help Restore 'Policy Space'?	260
	About the Authors	270